A BRAVE DESERTER.

BY EDWARD B. CLARK.

"What's that you say?" said Sergt. Toole, as he kicked the snow off his boots and sat down by the fire in the little wooden shack that did duty for barracks. "You say there never was any good in a deserter? Well, you've missed it by just one, and have made a four instead of a bull's eye. Didn't you ever hear tell of Jim Benson, of 'I' troop, of the Twelfth? Jim was a deserter, so Washington people said, but Jim loved the flag and his duty to it better than nine-tenths of the fellows who serve their full 30 years and then get let out with Uncle Sam's thanks and a small bit of money every month for life.

"What made him desert? Well, what should make an old soldier desert but a woman? Some poet or other once told about a fellow who had been tempted all kinds of ways. Money couldn't get him; glory couldn't get him; nothin' could get him, so all the wise ones thought, and she got him, or, as the verse slinger put it, 'woman tempted and he fell.'

"Jim was in the service 25 years before he struck his flag to a petticoat. Like all those fellows, when he got hit he was hit so bad that none of your surgeons who are up in matters of sentiment could probe and get out the bullet, or perhaps I'd better say arrow, for that's the kind of ammunition the little chap who shot Jim uses. You see, Jim was nigh onto 50 when he got his sights fixed and held on to this pretty young creature with blonde hair, blue eyes and pink cheeks. It's always the way with the old fellows, when they get stuck on something young. It goes hard with them. You see, the girl had heard how it was that Jim had always been steady, had never seen the inside of 'the mill' except as a member of the guard, and, moreover, how he had $4,000 drawing four per cent. with the paymaster.

"Jim always went into a fight to win, and he got on to the track of that girl and hung to it just as he did to the Kid's trail down in the Apache country when 'I' troop was chasing that red devil through the Arizona hell. The girl led Jim for a while coquettish like, just to make sure of him, I guess. I don't suppose she ever cared a rap for him, but she was of a kind to whom Jim's little pot of money and his retired pay meant a heap.

"Jim wasn't any beauty. He looked like one of this artist fellow Remington's pictures of us fellows. All muscle and bone, but as thin as the company cook's soup when the beef doesn't show up. Moreover, Jim had a scar on his face that was deep enough to drop a Springfield cartridge in. He got it along with a medal of honor when he was trying to save a kid trumpeter from being gobbled up by the Sioux out on the Rosebud. The medal of honor didn't mean anything to that girl. It might to some who wear skirts, but not to one of her kind.

"Well, finally we all thought that Jim had corraled her all right. It was given out that the Twelfth's chaplain was going to have a job tying the two up. None of the boys congratulated Jim too hearty, because most of them had sized the affair up right, and wouldn't have it that the girl was good enough for Jim Benson. She might be all right for a rookie, but not for an old fellow who had seen more campaigns than the girl had years. I ought to have told you before that this particular petticoat was visiting at the post. She came from down Iowa way somewhere.

One night she gave it out that she was going home, and that Jim must go down there for the splicing. She cleared out, and in a few days after the old fellow gets a furlough and clears out, too, following the trail, as we heard after, way down to Iowa. Now, you must just get hold of this fact. Jim was kind of a pious chap, but he loved the flag better than any Bible that was ever printed, but for a short time that girl was above the flag. Jim was just crazy for her. The story is that she wouldn't come back, and wouldn't marry him unless he quit the army then and there. Jim tried to quit through the regular red tape channels, but they wouldn't have it down in Washington.

"Jim Benson, veteran, medal of honor man, fighter in a hundred fights, lover of his flag and country, and as good a soldier as ever wore quartermaster's shoes, deserted, and deserted for a petticoat. I forgot to say that Jim got his wad of money from the paymaster before his leave was up.

"There was another desertion inside of a month after Jim quit the colors. This time a woman did the deserting, though a fellow helped her to do it, and along with the woman and the fellow went Jim's money. I don't suppose during the honeymoon the full force of what he had done went home to the bull's eye with Jim. It went home, however, when the girl quit. Jim wanted to be reinstated in the service. He was willing to take the heaviest penalty for absence without leave, but he knew now how it felt to be a deserter, and more than that, he remembered how all good soldiers despise a fellow who quits.

"Jim's heart was clean broke. He got in communication with his old captain somehow, and he tried to work the thing through the department for Jim, but there'd been a heap of desertions about that time, and despite Jim's medal and his 25 years with nary a 'blind' nor a day in 'the mill' against him, the honorable, the secretary of war said if Jim was caught he must take his medicine.

"It was rumored around old Fort Johnson that Jim had been seen on the edge of the woods looking at the old place and seeming kind of wildlike. One night one of the old quartermaster shacks got on fire. It was just before target practice season, and the building had a dozen big boxes of ammunition in it. There was a pretty stiff wind blowing, and it looked as if the barracks and a lot of other things would go. If that stuff had exploded the other buildings would have gone sure. The fire was fairly eating around those boxes and the fellows fought shy of the flames a little, good soldier stuff though they were.

"All at once while the crowd was bearing back somebody jumped clean through the line and plump into the fire. He grabbed a box and threw it out clear of the blaze, and then another and another, though the flames were burning his clothes and going up wreathlike about his head.

"When he had done the business clean and good the man jumped out of the flames and ran to the woods. Well, I guess you know who it was. It was Jim Benson. We found him dead next day in a thicket, but the curious part of the matter was that Jim's body was wrapped in an old garrison flag that had been pinned about him by the last effort of those poor burned hands. Jim thought, you see, that, deserter though he was, if he did this they might bury him with the flag.

"Did they do it? Yes, and gave him the regulation three rounds over the grave and the best prayer that the old chaplain knew how to pray.

"Boys, I've been 29 years in the service. I've only got one year before I retire, but as sure as drill call sounds in decent weather I'm going to fight shy of petticoats till the next 12 months are up."—Chicago Record-Herald.

MECHANICAL STOKING.

Labor Saving Machinery Taking the Place of Many Men in Shops and Foundries.

The small number of men to be seen in a modern large machine works or steel mill, as compared with an old-time shop of similar importance, is a matter which has been a frequent occasion for comment, and this is doubtless due to the very general use of labor-saving machinery, says the Engineering Magazine. The cost of production in industrial establishments is made up of the costs of raw material, wages, tonnage, taxes and interest, of which the largest single item usually is the wages cost. One way by which this item may be reduced is by the installment of mechanical stokers. In the great majority of steam plants the coal is wheeled to the boiler room by hand, it is fired by hand, and the ashes are removed by hand, making, in plants of 2,000 boiler horse-power or over, a wages cost of some considerable amount.

The mechanical stoker may be defined as a system of great bars, dumping bars, coal feeders and automatic devices to feed fuel and control its combustion, and subsequently to drop the ashes and unburnt coal. That it is not in any sense a new invention is to be learned from the fact that James Watt took out a patent in 178[illegible] for such a device. The mechanical stoker is of English origin, though it has been very thoroughly developed in the United States to suit the local fuels and boiler furnace conditions.

APPENDICITIS IS NOT NEW.

The Disorder Has Existed for Ages, But the Doctors Did Not Know It.

"Why is it," asked a man of a physician, "that so many people are suffering these days with appendicitis and have to be operated upon, when there was formerly nothing of the kind in existence?" according to the Chicago Chronicle.

"My young friend," the doctor answered, "this disease has been in the world ever since Adam was—perhaps that story of his losing a rib may have arisen because he was operated upon for appendicitis. When your grandfather was a boy his neighbors had it all around him, and so they did when you were a boy. But they called it inflammation of the bowels, stomach ache, acute indigestion, liver trouble or something of that sort. The patienth got well or he died, but no one ever opened him when living to see what the matter was. Perhaps it is as well that they did not, for much of the surgery of these days was more dangerous than any disease."

INITIALS ON THEIR LOAVES.

Montreal Hits on a Good Way of Bringing Short-Weight Bakers to Time.

The city of Montreal lately passed a law to improve its bread supply. All Montreal loaves hereafter must be stamped with a number indicating their weight and with the initials of the baker, reports the New York Sun.

A $40 fine and two months' imprisonment are the alternative penalties provided for each violation, and all bread not fulfilling requirements is to be seized. Besides this it is provided also under heavy penalties that all rooms for the manufacture of food products shall be at least eight feet high and floored with cement, tiles or wood properly saturated with linseed oil.

The walls and ceilings must be whitewashed at least once in six months, and no animals, except cats, shall be allowed in any rooms used for the manufacture or storage of bread or pastry.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Dying as Fast as She Could.

William Pruette, the singer, was one of a group of married men who were discussing housekeeping and servants the other evening in a Philadelphia hotel corridor. He told of a girl who served him and Mrs. Pruette well enough while they were living in a New York flat several years ago, and who one day went to Mrs. Pruette in tears and asked permission to go home for a few days—she had a telegram telling that her mother was ill.

"Of course, go," said Mrs. Pruette—"only, Maggie, do not stay longer than is necessary. We need you."

Maggie promised to return as soon as possible, and hurried away. A week passed without a word from her; then came a note by mail, reading:

"Deer Miss Pruete i will be back nex week an plese kep my place for me, mother is dying as fast as she can. To oblidge

"Maggie."

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol, and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat.

Utley Pardons a Convict.

State Senator Newton W. Utley, of Lyon county, President pro tem. of the Senate, was acting Governor of Kentucky last week, Gov. Beckham and wife being at Nashville, Tenn., attending the horse show. This was the first time he ever occupied the executive chair, and he availed of his prerogative to pardon Lacy Roberts, of Marshall county, who was serving a life sentence in the Eddyville penitentiary for murder. He was sent up in June, 1891, for complicity in the murder of Peter McCain. The application for pardon was presented by Judge W. W. Reed, of Paducah, and others.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

THURSDAY, : Oct. 9, 1902.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

HON. F. A. HOPKINS,

OF PRESTONSBURG.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Court Clerk.

HOLLON.—We are authorized to announce I. R. HOLLON as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Wolfe County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

HANKS.—We are authorized to announce JAMES HANKS as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Wolfe County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Legislative Representative.

PIERATT.—We are authorized to announce H. F. PIERATT as a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature from the 91st District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Republican candidate for Congress from this, the Tenth Kentucky District, is making such a still hunt that he don't want the election even mentioned in the hearing of a Democrat, and to accomplish his purpose he resorts to "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" enough to make the heathen Chinee ashamed of existence; so ashamed, indeed, because the Melican man has outdone him in trickery that his Mongolian manhood suggests the severing of his que as an act of penance. John G. White, the big man of the g. o. p. in this district, rich and respected, stooping to do things of which his poorest mountain constituent would be ashamed. Indeed for unmitigated gall and low down poltroonery he carries the banner. Posing as a Primitive Baptist he essays to make the members of that religious denomination a party to his pettifogging principles, but in doing so his thin cloak of religion slips from him, exposing a carcass so corrupt that carrion crows pass it by with contempt. He a man of wealth, his riches reaped from the mountain's horny handed sons of toil, he asks the poor devils of his party to contribute to his campaign fund. No matter what the condition of the voter or what his responsibility to his family, he must contribute something. There is no escape from this edict. To four men in each precinct he assigns the work of collecting his campaign fund, and to his head henchman he says: "If you can't get these four men to do this work for their party, get them as reasonable as possible and pay them for it." Why, of course, he can pay them! With every voter a contributor to his corrupt campaign fund he should have big boodle to disburse. How a decent white man can read these letters and then support White is beyond our comprehension. Oh, but he is a peeled peach! "We want to instruct our Republican friends not to mention this election in the presence of a Democrat." Does he think all the Democrats of the district will sleep while he steals the election? Well, hardly; not even to gratify Boss Boodler and Champion Corruptionist White. But read Letter No. 1.:

WINCHESTER, KY.——

(Personal).

MY DEAR SIR: Your name has been given me as the Committeeman of your precinct. As you know the responsibility rests upon you to a certain extent as upon all other Committeemen and Chairmen throughout the district, to conduct your part in this campaign. We want to instruct our Republican friends not to mention this race in the presence of a Democrat; and we must, by all means, make a house to house canvas of our own party at ONCE, and forward me the name and address of each. I think it would be best for you to appoint four of the most influential, good, sober, true Republicans in your precinct and divide your precinct into four equal parts. That will make each precinct easily visted. Out of these four men I want to select a counter and challenger. The other two I want to assist you in bringing out every Republican voter in your precinct. Of these four mark the two best qualified to act as challenger and counter. We have victory within our grasp if we will only take advantage of the opportunity. Pick up courage and build up courage in every Republican. As soon as you appoint these four men forward me their names and addresses at once, and continue to forward me names as fast as they turn them in to you. These four men should be the finance committee as well, and tell them at each house they visit that I request each Republican to give something, if only one penny. In making this poll, mark every man who can be relied upon to keep a secret, and each Union soldier, and in taking this poll get the names from the Republicans of each Confederate soldier and member of the Primitive Baptist Church in the Democratic party in your precinct. Impress upon these men that our victory depends upon the amount of energy put into this campaign by the Republicans. It is very necessary when your chairman calls upon you that you respond at once. I have written each chairman to call a committee meeting and make these appointments as above stated. If you forward me names before you have your meeting you can state to the chairman that you received a letter from me to appoint, and the appointment has been made. We have got to be at our posts and stay until this election is over. I do hope you will not shun any duty during this campaign. If you can't get THESE four men to do THIS work for THEIR PARTY, get THEM as reasynably as possible AND PAY THEM FOR IT. Yours truly,

JOHN G. WHITE.

And here is another loving epistle from the same source. Having ing arranged for his four, he now tries to get them in blocks of ten. He is a sycophant in supplication, and says: "My future and your party is in your hands." What in the d— does the average voter care about Mr. White's future, however zealous he may be for the cause. The truth of the matter is that John tore his pants with the mountain people when he became affected with the big head. Having made his money off the sweat of other people's brows, and those other people mountaineers, they thought he should continue to live among them that indirectly they might profit from his wealth, that in a way they had helped him get. But he was seized with the swelled head to such an extent that he had to go to the bluegrass for the social position he thinks his riches entitles him to. Yet if he can use them to still further advance his interests he will be glad to do so. Otherwise he has no interest in them, now or hereafter, and the people, reading this between the lines, will no longer be duped by him. He commands that voters be counted out in blocks of ten, and that one of each ten shall be responsible for and deliver the other nine to the polls like sheep to the shambles. Who is this Big Ike of the Inquisition who says we "must" do so and so, like dumb, driven cattle? Does the wealth he amassed among us and upon which he now luxuriates in a bluegrass home warrant such assumption? Such are a few of the questions the rank and file voters of the Republican party are asking, and Mr. White will find that none of these contribute to his corruption fund. His proposition to get an increase of pension for all Union soldiers and to have a constitutional amendment by which Confederates may be pensioned, as set forth in his Pikeville speech, are the veriest kind of rot, and no sensible man will be caught with such chaff, even should he be elected, and his chances are about like the feline in hades minus her talons. Mr. White, after the election on November 4th, your name will be Dennis. Letter No. 2.:

WINCHESTER, KY.——

(Personal).

MY DEAR SIR: Your name with three others of your precinct have been given me by your committeeman as true Republicans and hard workers for your party, and that you four have agreed to make a house to house canvass of your precinct; the first canvass to begin at once, and in making this canvass you must take a poll of the Republicans only, giving me the names and postoffice address of each, and mark each as reliable, or doubtful, etc. The next canvass to be made the week before the election; in making this canvass, you must do it in a quiet way so no one will know your business except our Republican friends; I want you to impress upon each Republican the importance of coming to the polls and voting on November 4th. And make him pledge himself to be there; in making the first canvass organize the entire precinct in blocks of TEN, and out of these TEN select one of the best men to take charge of that block, and that he will make a canvass of these TEN men from time to time, and impress upon them the importance of voting this 4th of November. Have him to see that no Republican moves out of his precinct until after the election, and at the same time keep tab of all the Democrats move in or out of your precinct to keep them from voting. We MUST have a clean vote if we win, and each man in the block that is crippled or has no horse to go to the polls must be provided for, and and brought out, the man that takes charge of each block, must have it understood where they are to meet on the morning of the election, and if one should not be there, he MUST be sent for immediately and persuaded to come and vote.

You can state further that on account of the LIMITED TIME to make THIS canvass that it is impossible for me to see them all in person, and that I requested you to make THIS canvass.

My idea is for you four, including your committeeman, to have a meeting at once, and lay your plans to get every vote in your precinct. If this is carried out each precinct in THIS district there is no doubt but that I will be elected by a handsome majority. I do hope that neither of you will shun ONE DUTY TO YOUR PARTY and take courage and build up courage in each Republican, and remember that MY FUTURE and YOUR PARTY is in YOUR hands, and I do hope you will take good care of what has been entrusted to you and do your WHOLE DUTY. I think it BEST to divide the precinct into FOUR EQUAL PARTS, or SCHOOL DISTRICTS. DON'T put THIS work on one man, but I WANT and MUST have four men to do THIS work.

Thanking you in advance, and hoping to hear from you by RETURN MAIL THAT YOU HAVE ACCEPTED THIS DUTY,

I am truly yours for success,

JOHN G. WHITE.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

A X mark shows that your time is up, and unless you renew at once you may not get the paper next week.

You now have less than three weeks in which to record a guess for that $25,000. Come quick.

For Constipation

Take Lyon's Laxative Syrup; an ideal remedy for ladies and children, as it is pleasant to take and perfectly harmless under all circumstances. Price 25c

Sold by J. C. Stamper, Grassy Creek

Myrtle Davis's eyes are so far restored that she will return home the latter part of this or the first of next week.

HEALTH is fully restored by the great alterative and tonic, Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you remember the old saying,—health IS WEALTH.

Mrs. Caleb (Doc) Kash, who has been dangerously ill for a week or ten days, was on Monday thought to be much better.

George Dyer, the tonsorial artist, gives a hair cut, shave and shampoon for 40 cents. Barbering days Wednesdays and Saturdays.

John H. Pieratt will leave Sunday for Louisville, where he goes as the representative of Mizpah Lodge No. 507 F. & A. M., to the Grand Lodge.

Dr. John A. Taulbee, of Jackson, was here Sunday, having been summoned to attend John Cox, who was badly hurt by Oscar McNabb in an altercation last Thursday.

Nelse Nickell is the proud owner of a brand new $65 wagon, which he bought in Mt. Sterling one day last week, but the firm not being advertised, the name is unknown.

Mrs. F. N. Day will leave Sunday for Louisville, where she will buy a new fall and winter stock of millinery, wraps, skirts, etc. She will also visit her son, James, who is in hospital there under treatment.

Dr. Center reports the following births since our last issue: On Oct. 10th, to the wife of Daniel Landsaw, of Stillwater, a boy; Oct. 10th, to the wife of Mat Childers, also of Stillwater, a boy; Oct. 11th, to the wife of Cal Cundiff, of Laurel, a girl.

Frank Brenneman and family this week removed to their farm on Falling Water, some eight miles below Hazel Green, their postoffice being Valeria. The young ladies, Misses Mary and Corda, make the change under protest, on account of the isolation.

A house covering is the latest social fad, and Mrs. Jose Swango had one Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Several shinglers were present, and Harlan Trimble bossed the job. Mrs. Swango gave a nice dinner, the crowning feature being turkey.

Miss Enith Lusk, author of the little poem, "A Feathered Songster," will be remembered as the next youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lusk, formerly of this place but now of Myrtle Point, Oregon. She was but a child then, and is still quite young, but this and "An Oregon April Day," which we shall publish next week, show so much literary merit that we ask her thus publicly to become a regular weekly contributor to THE HERALD.

Our Grand Offer.

Until further notice we will give every new subscriber and every old one who renews, choice of the following papers. They are absolutely free and given as an inducement to take THE HERALD. Here they are:

The Toledo Blade (Republican)
The Sunny South, (Stories, &c.)
Home and Farm, (Farm, &c.)

Our Republican friends should surely avail of this grand chance to secure their "political bible" free, the ladies will find Sunny South a literary gem, and farmers and their wives will be pleased with Home and Farm. Subscribe today.

MY FEATHERED SONGSTER.

BY ENITH LUSK.

A gay little bird sang blithely to me,
From the tip of the top of the myrtle tree;
Heig-ho! good and merry and glad was he,
This dear little bird, that sang to me.

He was dressed in brown, with a striped vest
And he seemed to say, I will do my best.
Then turning his head and peering at me,
He poured forth his notes, so rich and free.

Just what his song was, I cannot tell,
But this I know, that he sang it well;
It was short and sweet, this beautiful song,
So he warbled it over, to make it long.

As he turned his head and peered at me,
Oh, wise and merry and good was he;
Heigh-ho! happy and gay was he,
This dear little bird, that sang to me.

And now I'll whisper a secret to you,
This little tale is every word true,
For this wee brown bird did sing to me
From the tip of the top of the myrtle tree.

There could be no better proof that printers' ink pays than the race for Representative. Mr. Pieratt was announced in THE HERALD and he swept the platter. The following shows for itself: Out of a total of 1024 votes Mr. Pieratt polled 750, Mr. Sebastion 163, and Mr. Rose 111. In Pieratt's precinct Pieratt got 82, Sebastian 2, and Rose 1; In Sebastian's precinct Pieratt got 55, Sebastian 17, and Rose 7; In Rose's precinct Pieratt got 40, Sebastian 0, and Rose 37. Thus it will be seen that Pieratt not only got a handsome vote in his own precinct but polled more votes in their own precincts than they themselves. Of course, Pieratt's popularity was a factor, but in accepting the nomination he said the announcement did the work.

A Freak of Nature.

Dr. Center tells us that a cow belonging to his brother, John Center of Clifty Creek, Menefee county, last week gave birth to a calf with two well developed heads and two distinct, well defined necks back to the shoulder, with a star in either head. The calf was red roan or spotted, but was dead, otherwise Mr. Center would have had a museum freak worth money. A taxidermist should have had the freak for mounting, and possibly did; Dr. Center didn't know.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food, and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it.

In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

CAMPTON COURIER.

BEN SEWELL, EDITOR. VOLUME I.—NUMBER 12.

LOCAL LACONICS.

A. F. Byrd went to Winchester Wednesday on business.

W. L. Hurst and wife went to Frozen last week to look over their "eminent domain."

For the news read the CAMPTON COURIER—always found in THE HERALD. No room for editorials this week.

David Bryan Redwine Vansant is growing nicely and will soon do to enter the field of bosses as a feather weight.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe Combs, of Stillwater, were visiting the family of our townsman, I. W. Combs, Sunday last.

'Squire W. B. Duff is authority for the statement that over $8,000 has been allowed by the Court of Claims the last year.

Mrs. Debby Swango, nee Taulbee, the wife of Doc Swango, of Stillwater, died on the 10th inst., and was buried on the 11th.

Read the report of the doings of the Court of Claims and see how the money is going. It will appear in the CAMPTON COURIER next week.

Attorney Z. T. Hurst, of Boxer, the cannel coal magnate of Eastern Kentucky, was in town the latter part of last week to transact some legal business.

James Kash, wife and daughter, of North Middletown, Ky., and Postmaster D. D. Hurst, of Jackson, were guests of Capt. W. L. Hurst and family several days last week.

Junia Byrd, Tamer Tolson, Lydia Stamper, Edith Stamper, Rinda Rose, Mary Robinson, G. W. Robinson and possibly others, attended the funeral meeting at Toliver last Sunday.

J. N. Vaughn, of Lexington, was here last week clerking in his store. He handed ye editor $1.25 for THE HERALD and Courer-Journal one year. Mr. Vaughn is one of Fayette county's most prosperous farmers.

S. S. Combs, one of our popular merchants, has gone to the city to purchase a new supply of goods. Barring his politics Mr. Combs is a good citizen and, of course, the "champion wild cat fighter" of our town.

C. C. Fulks went to Clifty Monday to represent the State in the case of the Commonwealth against Oscar McNabb, charged with the offense of assaulting his father-in-law, John Cox. The difficulty occurred last Saturday.

Cud M. Collins is our boss banjo picker. Our champion dancers are R. L. Athey and James Tyler; performance each night in front of Combs' store. A free treat to music and dancing. The crowd always sufficient. Who will act as clown?

According to report Wolfe county is more than $3,000.00 in debt! Where is your "economical Democratic management," if this be true? Let us have a true report of the financial standing of the county, as the law directs. Show your hands.

The Methodists of Campton gave a box supper at the courthouse last Saturday evening. As THE COURIER had no reporter there this is all the particulars we are able to give of that sumptuous function and adjunct of the church; but we hope all swelled with joy unspeakable on the toothsome things to eat.

Oct. 10th, born to the wife of D. D, Landsaw a lively, bouncing, strenuous, aggressive, civil-liberty-loving Republican Rough Rider. It will doubtless be christened Hanna Roosevelt, and in the future play an important part in the angelic Republican world of politics. Daniel, its father, is now ready to die, this being the first voter in the family of six.

Prof. Rolla Bailey, of Flat, who is teaching the school in that Republican stronghold, was here Saturday and subscribed for THE HERALD six months. Rolla contemplates starting a paper here in the near future. He had better right his politics first, and employ the editor of THE COURIER to write the editorial eruptions. (Now, Spence, don't say "corruptions.") Ben, "A guilty conscience needs no accuser."

R. L. Athey, U. S. mail carrier on Route No. 29,300, from Campton to Spradling, has made a record as mail carrier in the past eight years unsurpassed by any mail carrier in the United States. The route over which he travels is rough and rocky; yet he has never missed a trip in that time. He claims to have ridden a distance of 14 miles daily, making 35,056 miles in the eight years. During eight years he has carried $12,520 worth of dry goods and groceries to the people of Spradling. He has carried their eggs, chickens, butter, etc., to market, and they have always been pleased with his sales and purchases. He claims to have been engaged to marry 33 times, but has broken each engagement, giving as his reasons for so doing that he did not know the meaning of that word love. We will say that Mr. Athey first commenced carrying the mail years ago to Bowen; also carried mail three months from Campton to Torrent, and says that he has never missed a trip in carrying the mail on some route in eighe years. Last Sunday's Cincinnati Commercial Tribune contains a history of Mr. Athey's career, which is a remarkably romantic one. This story, which appears in the Tribune, is profusely illustrated with pictures, etc.

Following is a list of officers appointed by J. F. Vansant for the Democratic primary, to be held Saturday, Oct. 18th, for the purpose of selecting a Democratic candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of this county:

1st District.—John B. Hollon, Clerk; H. C. Quicksall, Sheriff; Sam Rose and Tom Amyx, Judges.

2nd Dist.—H. F. Pieratt, Clerk; Jeff M. Rose, Sheriff; J. B. Elkins and John Cox, Judges.

3rd Dist.—R. L. Carroll, Clerk; A. T. Combs, Sheriff; J. N. Netherly and W. S. Tutt, Judges.

4th Dist.—Wayne Bryant, Clerk; Dock Cabell, Sheriff; Robt. Hobbs and J. C. Creech, Judges.

5th Dist.—Isaac Elkins, Clerk; Dave Banks, Sheriff; Nathan Hollon and Preston Hollon, Judges.

6th Dist.—J. M. Tester, Clerk; H. H. Swango, Sheriff; J. M. Swango and Joel Gevedon, Judges.

7th Dist.—W. W. Swango, Clerk; A. B. Landrum, Sheriff; Fielden Cox and Taylor Center, Judges.

8th Dist.—Walter Oliver, Clerk; R. P. McCowan, Sheriff; S. F. Allen and G. C. Oliver, Judges.

These election officers are entirely satisfactory to both of the candidates.

The Christian reformers congregated here at the church house Sunday and prayed to the Lord to put a stop to the crime in Campton. A negro once prayed to the Lord to send him a turkey. The Lord failed to do it. So the negro stealthily slipped to a roost one night and stole him a turkey. Hence, if crime is put down in Campton it must be done by manpower and not by Divine power. So nerve up to the task yourselves, and crush it out. The Lord don't do such things. Anyway, He never has, and we judge from the past that He never will

G. B. Stamper received an anonymous letter from some source last week. Among other things the writer said: "Tell Sewell Combs to serve his country by voting the Republican ticket. Tell Howard Stamper to keep out of bad company. Tell Jonas Vansant to make out his fee bill. Tell Cæsar Hurst to deal off 'King of Diamonds.' Tell the Sporting Club that I am preaching the Gospel and dreaming of my dear sweetheart I left behind me. Tell Frank Stamper 'I am there, Eli'"

THIRTY THOUSAND IN CASH.

To See the Mass Lying Idle in a Banker's Window Grieves One Practical Spirit.

The Italian bankers of Elizabeth and Mulberry streets are filing their show windows with greenbacks in an effort to attract trade and convince the public that one has more money than the other. In the window of one banker $30,000 was on exhibition one day recently, says the New York Sun. Bills of all denominations were strewn carelessly around the window, attracting crowds.

"Them ain't all real money," remarked one woman, "them's imitation."

"Yes," replied a man in the crowd, "that's the genuine long green we all struggle for."

"I never t'ought dere was dat much money in de world," chimed in a ragged boy.

Two Italian laborers got into an argument as to the amount of cash in the window. One thought there must have been at least $1,000,000.

About noon two men with long whiskers stopped their vending wagon in front of the place. They had come over from the East Side of town.

"What? Tirty tousand dollar in dot vindow all der time!" exclaimed one.

"Dot is it," replied the other. "It ain't too much for a bank, vhat?"

"No; but look at der interest vhich it is losing every minute. Vhat a shamefulness! Interest! Lost interest $1,200 a year."

LEAP-YEAR BIRTHDAYS.

A Unique Society in Berlin Which Is to Hold a Big Celebration in 1904.

Herr Monteur, a worthy resident of Berlin, is over 70 years old, but will celebrate his eighteenth birthday on February 29, 1904. He is president of the Berlin society of leap year children, the one organization of its kind in the world. The members have had no birthday celebration for eight years, the extra February day having been omitted in 1900 according to the rules of the reformed calendar. Therefore the society is planning a great celebration on February 29, 1904. A committee of arrangements is already at work, and something extraordinary may be expected, as on account of the society's curious origin many prominent persons have interested themselves in the matter.

The month of February in 1886, by the way, was even more interesting than that which will be marked by the unique Berlin celebration. It had no full moon, and in that was the most remarkable in the world's history, for never before had such a thing occurred. January of that year had two full moons, and so had March, but February had none. How extraordinary this event was may be judged from the fact that according to the computation of astronomers it will not occur again for 2,500,000 years.

ART AND ATHLETICS.

The Outdoor Movement, It Is Thought, Will Advance the Two Interests.

The universally increasing attention now being given, especially in Anglo-Saxon countries, to out-of-door sports and to physical culture is a sign of the best omen. No class can have a greater solicitude for the furtherance of this movement than the artists, for they cannot create beautiful forms without having beautiful forms around them from which to draw inspiration. The art of a nation is but the mirror of that nation's ideals, and faithfully reflects their slightest change, says Outing.

This new conception of the value of athletics will add dignity, interest and standing, making it a factor second to none in the development of our civilization. It will be a mighty influence in the creation of a new and superior type of men and women. That women are growing more and more to realize this is evidenced by the athletic tendency of the modern girl. If she will combine therewith an intelligent effort after well-balanced and harmonious development the results are bound to be satisfying in the extreme, for in many ways the female body is quicker than the male to respond to training.

High-Priced Orchids.

There are a number of orchids worth from $2,000 to $4,000 apiece. They grow in the malarial, miasmatic jungles of Africa, and there are men whose only business in life is orchid hunting. They only gather the roots in the dry season, when they are shriveled and apparently dead. Gathered in the wet season, when they are blooming the least rough handling would kill them. Some orchids do not bloom till they are 18 years old. Others grow in the cold and rarified air of mountain tops.—Nature.

At the instance of the Mutual Protective Society J. D. Cottle was arrested at Sandy Hook by Deputy Sheriff M. V. Murray, charged with robbing M. M. Redwine's store on the night of September 19th, and other arrests are likely to follow.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Tex., "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, rundown people. Try them. Only 50c. at J. T. EVERY SUBSCRIBER TO

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD

Will have an opportunity to share in these magnificent prizes if he wishes to participate in the Great Educational Contest in which these prizes are given.

The subject matter of this great contest is the total vote cast for Governor in the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan on the 4th day of November, 1902.

Every person interested in the science of Government should be interested in the election in these states. An election in New York is always of national import, and in point of political significance, Pennsylvania is second in importance only to the great Key Stone State, while Michigan is rapidly becoming an important political factor in the sisterhood of states. Much valuable information can be gained by a study of the political conditions involved in the elections to be held in these three states.

CONDITIONS OF THIS GREAT CONTEST

Every subscriber who remits $1.00, the regular subscription price for a year's subscription to THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, will receive a certificate that will secure for him any prize which his estimate entitles him to claim.

☞ In addition to the certificate to each subscriber who remits $1.00, agents will be allowed one certificate for every two yearly subscriptions sent in, either new ones or renewals.

When you send in your subscription, also send your estimates of the total vote for Governor in the three states. Write your name, address and estimate in the subscription blank below and mail to THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

The contest will close at midnight, Nov. 3, 1902, and no estimate received after that hour will be allowed. The official certificates of the Secretaries of the three States, showing the total vote for Governor, will determine who are entitled to the prizes, and the awards will be made by a disinterested committee of prominent juges, just as soon as the official figures can be obtained.
